Pen

Words matter. Use this pen as a reminder to be loving, kind, and thoughtful when you communicate. Respect one another, and never leave a friend behind.

Portfolio

Do not just write down what you know but use this portfolio as a reminder to share. The more we share, the more we learn, laugh, and grow.

Flash Drive

We can always learn more and need to be willing to gather new knowledge, whether firsthand or by learning from others. The flash drive is one way to store these memories, lessons, and experiences.

Bookmark

Use this bookmark to pause and think. We often get busy and move on to the next thing, without giving ourselves enough time for reflection. When we remember to do this, we can absorb information, process it, and determine the application. We can all become better.

Starbucks Gift Card

Life is meant to be celebrated! Take the time, either on your own or with a friend, to reflect on all of the positive things in your world and indulge in a hot or cold beverage on us.

TicTacs

When you have an abundance, remember to share with those around you. Even if it's something as small as a tiny breath mint.

Coloring Book

Creativity takes courage, and the coloring book is our way to encourage us all to start. If we can begin focusing on becoming better individuals, allies, and people, the picture will come to life. Let's make it vibrant. The world is our canvas, and we create reality.

Lighbulb

Making strides in diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging is hard work and ongoing. It is challenging and heavy. The lightbulb is a symbol to remember "Happiness can be found even in the darkest of times. If one only remembers to turn on the light." – Albus Dumbledore.

Crayons

There are so many different colors of life, of feeling, of articulation. The boxes of crayons are a way to demonstrate our unique composition. Some of our colors may need to be sharpened, maybe some of the crayons go missing, and we have to borrow that color from a friend to create the perfect combo. Whatever it takes, we are all here to contribute to the creation of this world, and we all have a responsibility to add some color.

Diversity Bracelet

Though the colors and sentiments expressed are all different, underneath we're all the same. Celebrate our differences by building on our shared strengths and recognize that each individual component makes a positive contribution to the whole.
